

Entrepreneurship vs Intrapreneurship (vsdiff.com)

Aspect	Entrepreneurship	Intrapreneurship
Definition	Creating a new business entity and taking risks to achieve financial rewards.	Innovating and developing new products or processes within an established organization.
Risk	High personal risk with potential for substantial reward or failure.	Lower personal risk as it involves working within a company's existing resources.
Reward	Full financial rewards of the success or profits generated.	Typically receives salary and bonuses, but not all profits.
Ownership	Owns the business and has full control over decisions and direction.	Does not own the business; operates under the umbrella of the organization.
Environment	Often works in a highly dynamic and unpredictable environment.	Works within a structured organizational framework.
Innovation	Innovates freely as there's no pre-existing hierarchy or limitations.	Innovation might be restricted by company policies and procedures.

Source: <https://vsdiff.com/entrepreneurship-vs-intrapreneurship/>